Attention Parents of Children with Special Needs

Parents of children with special needs have a forum to meet with representatives from community organizations to identify gaps in service delivery. The Local Inter-component Council (LICC) exists to help parents of children with special needs interact with service agencies and encourage cooperative efforts between those agencies.

The council works to empower parents and facilitate positive child development by promoting an awareness of community resources. The council ideally consists of approximately 20 percent parents and 80 percent professional service providers. Parents are urgently needed to get involved with this group and allow it to function. The 6th Area Support Group will officially appoint parents to serve on the council.

Occasionally parents have expressed an interest in forming either a special needs advocacy group or a support group for parents of children with special needs. Although the LICC is not a support group or an advocacy group, it can disseminate information on these groups to the community. However, a parent would be needed to host the meetings.

An LICC meeting is scheduled June 22 from 3:15 to 4:15 p.m. at Education and Development Intervention Services, building 2996, Panzer Kaserne. Childcare is possible on a space-available basis at Panzer Child Development Center. For info call Nathan Johnston, Child Youth Services, Special Needs director, 430-5314/civ. 0711-680-5314, or e-mail (johnstonn@6asg.army.mil) or call Lisa Perez, an involved parent, 431-2676/civ. 07031-15-676, or e-mail (perezl@6asg.army.mil).
